EXPERIENCE

Present Lead Product Designer

Oct 2016 Compliance & Risks

Leading the design of measurable and successful regulatory management solutions for the world's biggest companies.

- Developed design strategies and design system based on user research and business requirements.
- Lead and mentored a design team and contributed to making a culture that is passionate about the customer experience.
- Worked closely with product managers, developers, and other stakeholders to ship user-centric products.

Sep 2016 Senior Product Designer

Mar 2014 HireHive

Led the design of a successful recruitment platform from the very beginning. Clients included Charity Water and Bearing Point.

- Implemented layout, typography and branding for all products, platforms and devices.
- Developed a design strategy and library for the product that is still in use today.
- Created branding, content for the website, and marketing campaigns.

Mar 2014 Senior Product Designer

Feb 2010 Zartis

As the first designer in the company, I designed, developed and managed a range recruitment products and projects. Happy clients included Ryanair and Fexco.

- Created solutions and concepts for a range of recruitment products and HR platform.
- Designed and developed Ryanair's first successful careers portal.
- Designed and developed a successful European wide tech recruitment initiative.

I'm a seasoned Irish designer, based in Cork, Ireland, focusing on user experience, creativity and how language and psychology work together to shape good design.

Leading design at Compliance & Risks, I help create enterprise solutions for many of the world's largest and most interesting companies, including the top 10 electronics manufacturers, top 3 sporting labels, coolest gaming company, largest furniture retailer and the foremost maker of coloured interlocking plastic bricks.
